The New Orleans and Carrollton Railroad Company are running their cars by a novel motive power, which the Picayune says is obtained by means of the suppression of steam in water, the steam being taken from a stationary boiler at the depot, only three or four minutes being consumed in charging, thus doing laway with the fire to keep up the pressure. There exists in New York a company for the manufacture of ples, with a capital of $300,000. Some idea of the extent of the business may be conceived from the following summary of articles used per week: Sugar, 40,000 pounds; butter, 5000 pounds; cocoanut. 1500 pounds; pumpkins and squashes, 60,000 pounds; milk, 12,000 quarts; eggs, 60,000; four, 140 barrels; beef, for mince ples, 800 pounds; apples, 500 barrels; berries, 100 boxes; ple plates, 100,000.

_In Wilmington, Delaware, there is a gendeman ninety-eight years of age, who has to be closely watched to prevent him from getting married. He has made about fifty attempts, and always flods women to share theman Last week his triends rushed in and forbid the banns, just in time to prevent a magistrate from uniting the old gentleman to a spinster of thirty. He is said to be a "monomaniso" on the subject of marriage.

-Chloral or chloralchol is now becoming roform, laudanum and other oplates used in surgery therapeutics. Above three and a half cwt. of the new substance has been delivered by the Berlin manufacturers alone this year, and it is leared that a large portion of this comparatively considerable production has sen employed for engthing but sanitary or soothing purposes; for instance, baby-farming, obbery, polsoning, &c.

Father Secchi communicates to Les Mondes the particulars of a violent solar expicsion on the evening of the 7th of July. The internal movements of the incandescent vapors were so intense that the lum'nous were seen to change form rapidly, their height being six times greater than the earth's diameter. The eruption continued about two hours. On the same date an aurora borealls was seen at Madrid and in many other tions were very violent at all the observa-

-Accounts from Manchester represent the cotton trade in that city to be in a very unsatisfactory condition. Producers, both spinners and manufacturers, have become more anxious to effect sales, especially as orders are beginning to run out, and stocks are accumulating. Spinners and manufacturers are in a very unsalisfactory position, especially the latter, and current quotations are said generally to show a loss, and in many cases a heavy one, hence, short time is beginning to be again talked about, and unless some improvement takes place ere long it will probably be Apprehensions are expressed in official duarters of another failure of the potato crop in Ireland. The director of the Botanical Gardens at Kew has, at the request of the Prime Minister of England, written a recipe (to which a wide circulation is given.) for utilizing the diseased tubers. This recipe is accompanied by a letter, in which the writer save that already the crop is seriously affected, and that the cottagers and farm laborers foresee a terrible winter. It is not suppesed that the failure and the suffering will be as great as it was from the autumn of 1846 to that of 1848. It is only necessary to mention the his side would unquestionably be elected. fact. The generosity and attachment of the Irish-Americans can be relied upon to relieve the sufferings of those still dear to them in the cottages of their youth.

A veritable sensation was caused a few weeks ago in France by M. Decaine's communication to the Academy of Medicine, wherein the fact was shown that in France the proportion of births to marriages was unusually low -so low, indeed, that it will be difficult for marriages return four hundred children: in France only three hundred. In Prussia the percentage of births to population is 3.98; in France it is 2,55. In the former the annual excess of births over deaths is thirteen thousand three hundred in every million; in the latter it is only two thousand four hundred. According to these statistics it would take the population of France one hundred and seventy years to donole itself; that of Prussia, fortytwo; that of Russia, sixty; and that of Great Britain, fity-two years A Washington telegram of Wednesday to th eBaltimore Sun says: A "fair estimate made by Democratic canvassers of the States in which elections are to be held on Tuesday next, and which are to virtually decide the Presidential contest, is to this effect: In Indiana, notwithstanding the importation of colored voters from Kentucky and the discovery of plots for repeaters to pass from one town to another in the interest of the Republican party, it is believed that Mr. Hendricks, the Democratic candidate for Governor, and the ticket for Congressmen at large, will range from 8,000 to 12,000 majority. In Pennsylvania, Mr. Buckalew, for Governor, is given form 12,000 to 15,000 majority. The contest on Congressman at large, it is believed, will be very close in that State, and some Republicans, while conceding a Democratic Governor, claim they will secure the Republican Congressmen who are apportioned to the whole State.

It may be added here that the Republican leaders who are confident of Hartranft's election state that he will secure ten thousand majority in Philadelphia and five thousand in the rest of the State, which will elect him by fifteen thousand. In Obio the Democrats are very certain to elect more than a majority of Congressmen, and are very confident, since the accessions from the German vote, of electing their State ticket, though that is not regarded so certain as it is in Pennsylvania o Indiana. The Republicans say that they were badly scared' two weeks ago about Ohio, but that State is no longer in doubt. Indiana is regarded as in more danger by the Republicans than either Pennsylvania or Ohio. They say that the opposition is stronger and has less than a majority of a thousand to overcome. Such is a candid statement of the political situation to be solved on Tuesday next, derived from the best posted men of both parties."

Hard to Swallow.

The rival Radical factions have held their conventions and made their nominations for county officers and members of the Legislature. Both tickets are before the public. That which is put forth by the Bowen faction is infamous; that of the Mackey faction has some redeeming points. But neither ticket is worthy of Conservative support. In Charleston County there were, at the date of the last census, 6685 white voters, and 15,129 colored voters-making a total vote of 21,814, of which the white vote is less than one-half. There are quite as many colored men who vote with the Conservatives as there are white men who vote with the Radicals. It is safe then to say that there are in Charleston County about 15,000 Re publicans and 7000 Conservatives. Shall anything, or can anything, be done to utilize the Conservative vote?

As the Republican vote is more than double the Conservative vote, the Conservatives could not elect a third ticket, even Mackey and Bowen divided the Republican vote equally between them. And so exact division is practically impossible. In the Carpenter-Scott canvass of 1870, however, the Conservative vote was 6980, and the Re publican vote 13,411-which would have admitted of the election of a third legislative and county ticket, if there had been as many Republicans on the side of DeLarge as on the side of Bowen. Three county tickets were in the field, viz : the Bowen ticket, the DeLarge ticket and the Reform ticket, and the vote was: Jervey (Bowen) 13,261; George Lee (DeLarge) 3569; and Melchers (Reform) 6912. This was a full vote, and the Conservatives stood no chance. There have been many changes in the county during the past two years, and the struggle between Bowen and Mackey will be far more close than that between Bowen and DeLarge in 1870. Nevertheless the preponderance on the one side or the other will be sufficient to defeat a Conservative Licket, even upon the assumption that a strong ticket were nominated, and the entire Conif they take a practical view of the situation and near in mind Captain Cuttle's aphorism, that "half a loaf's better than no bread, and "the same remark holds good with crumbs." Mackey and Bowen are crumbs-of very cold comfort. The Conservatives cannot elect a ticket of their own, but they can elect either of the two Radical tickets. One-half of the Conservative vote would determine whether Mackey or Bowen shall wear the bays. But neither ticket, as a whole, can be voted for by any consistent Conservative. The only way then in which the Conservatives can use their power to advantage, and elect the least objectionable of the candidates already in the field, is by selecting a third ticket exclusively from the two Radicla tickets. It must be made up exclusively from the two Radical tickets, because a vote cast for a third candidate is a vote lost. Nor is there any doubt that this scheme would be successful. Bowen may he.ve a slight advantage over his opponents, in which case any candidate taken from But Mackey, at the worst, is not more than a couple of thousand votes behind Bowen, and a half of the city Conservative vote cast for candidates taken from the Mackey side would easily elect them. We repeat that neither ticket is such as, under normal circumstances, would receive, France ever to find men wherewith to in whole or in part, the support of this eavenge Sedan." In Prussia one hundred paper. But we believe it to be the part of wisdom to do the best we can under the circumstances, instead of continuing to sulk because nothing is exactly as we would have it. We shall, therefore, present to the public of Charleston County a ticket made up of candidates upon the two Radical tickets, and for this eclectic or coalition ticket we shall ask for the Conservative vote. It will be better than either the Mackey ticket or the Bowen ticket; because it will comprise the best of the candidates on the two tickets. This is all that we can, for the present, expect. And it is well worth the getting.

Improving the Shining Hour.

The American publisher is accustomed to making hay when the sun shines, and the Appletons have accordingly rushed out a reprint of "A Waiting Race," by Edmund Yates, who arrived in New York last week. and has made his début as a lecturer before the public. This Mr. Yates is the author of numerous works. The list comprises : "My "Haunts and their Frequenters," published in 1854; "After Office Hours," in 1861; "Broken to Harness," a story, in 1864; "Bu"siness of Pleasure;" "Pages in Waiting; and "Rupning the Gauntlet," a novel, in 1865; "Kissing the Rod," and "Land at "Last," in 1866. He was joint author of "Mirth and Metre," published in 1854, and one of the editors of "Our Miscellany," 1857-'58. He put forth in 1860 an abridged edition of the "Life of C. Mathews the "Elder," and a "Memoir of Albert Smith "and Mont Blanc." He is the author of several dramas, and served six years as mu. sical critic of the London Daily News with which paper, and the Pall Mall Ga zette, he is still connected. He was for some time editor of Temple Bar Magazine. in which his first novel, "Broken to Har-"ness," appeared, followed by "Land at "Last." He gave up Temple Bar to star Tinsley's Magazine. For some years prior to Dickens's death, Mr. Yates was the writer of the leading serial story in All the Year Round, where appeared his novel, "Black "Sheep," which was considered by Mr. Dickens to be one of the strongest works of modern fiction. He still continues faithful to All the Year Round, and in it his story, the "Yellow Flag," is now appearing from week to week. For "A Waiting Race" there is much and little to be said. It is lively and entertaining, and so attuned as to suit the Fifthavenoodles of America, but it is pitched in a low key, and will not be praised by any persons who desire that literature shall purify and exalt the people. In plain words, it is the history of a woman whose gross misconduct and wilful lying, beautiful blonde as she is, make her a horror to all decent people; while the foils are so "goody" that the reader is persuaded that those who are sour are good by nature, while these who are sweet are good by misadventure. The novel is not actually immoral, but it would be exceedingly stupid without its suggestive impropriety. As this hint will doubtless cause "A Waiting Race" . to be read, it is just as well to say that it may be bought at Holmes's Book House for 75

Last year 4 comfortable frame houses were received by the proprietor on the outer edge of the body of timber, and the locality is remarkably healthy.

The timbered portion (119 acres) presents as fine a body of virgin forest as the eye can meet with in this State, varying from the smallest sized cap timber to the largest ranging size.

To railroad contractors, immbermen and turpentine distillers, no inner opportunity has ever been presented of realizing a fortune, as they have the option of shipping to Savannah or Fort Royal, either by water or rail.

For further pationiars, apply to the subscriber, or to H. M. THOMPSON, Esq., Attorney at Low, Williston, So. Ca., august 1st, 1872.
